Dear CPC Members,

The CPC Board of Directors have met and discussed the Telehealth Guideline Resource that was created in the fall/winter of 2020 and sent out to the membership in January of 2021. The document was created after receiving several member questions regarding Telehealth during the Pandemic, asking for guidance on implementing this in a very challenging time. At that time, the Board discussed this document being an evolving guideline and virtual care has been on our radar throughout our strategic planning process.

The CPC Board is establishing a task force to look at all factors surrounding Telehealth and the delivery of Pedorthic treatment virtually. I can advise that the task force will use its best efforts to engage with a broad spectrum of members and stakeholders, to become as well-informed as possible to make recommendations to the Board. The current Telehealth Resource Guide will continue to apply until the task force has completed its review and the Board has considered any recommendations it makes.

We have a board meeting on October 26th, and I hope to have an update from the task force at that time.

The CPC Board has spent the last 6 months deeply involved in a strategic planning process. We reached out to you, our members, with a survey for your feedback and received an astounding number of responses. We have incorporated your feedback into the strategic planning process and will continue to consider your feedback throughout this process.

Our role as the regulator is public safety and to protect the integrity of our profession and we will continue to consider what is best for the public & the profession during these evolving times.

Sincerely,

Jordanna Jones
